

Dear Partners:

On July 31st at MP you all made a little girl's dream come true. So many of you did so many wonderful things I just don't know where to begin. Track photographer Bill Denver was there to capture the moment.

Yesterday at the Haskell there were so many of you that went out to the Box to check on Joyce just say hello. I was so proud of all of you. We all only wish that we had some miracle cure to stop the cancer. Your prayers and thoughtfulness have kept Joyce fighting the good fight. Thank you all.

And although we just met the de Vogel's and the Hershey's we all feel as if they are our next door neighbor that we have known all our lives. Joyce is going to New York to enjoy a day of shopping. I have invited the men, okay boys, to go fishing if they want to?

As Ron Hershey and his wonderful family he wrote this morning....

Hi Bob,

What a great day we had, thanks to all who helped make it happen, and thanks to all who stopped and said hi. I do not know how much life a 12 year old girl can live in one week, but are trying to find out. We have had no time to talk about all the things Joyce will never be able to do in life, instead we are doing things that not many people ever get to do. As I said before I will update with more detail when things slow down a bit, just wanted to say thanks to all. I wish you all could have heard her laugh on the way home tonight , she was almost in tears.

Thanks
Ron and the crew
=

Bob,

Just wanted to drop you a line and tell you that although it was raining at the Haskell yesterday, when I stopped by the FLS box it was all sunshine. I met Joyce, her family and Ron Hershey - what an amazing group of people to talk to! I wanted to introduce myself and tell Joyce how touching her story is, and to wish her well.

What you and the partners of FLS have done for her is truly amazing. I know she had an amazing time this weekend - you could see it on her face! Thanks again for making her and her family feel at home while taking a vacation from this horrible sickness.

Kevin

Below are the photographs taken by Bill.

With kind regards,

Bob